Affording Higher Education Financial Aid Programs for Kentucky Students 2006-2007

With the rapid increase in the cost of education, student financial aid is becoming increasingly important. Although the cost of Kentucky's higher education institutions is more reasonable than that of schools in many other states, a four-year degree at a Kentucky school, depending on the type of institution, will cost between $40,000 and $120,000--a considerable sum for most Kentuckians.

The Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) publishes Affording Higher Education to encourage Kentucky students to pursue a higher education by helping them locate sources of aid. To be competitive in today's world--and tomorrow's--a higher education has become a necessity for many, if not most, of our workforce. Affording Higher Education provides information about nearly 4,000 financial aid programs for Kentucky students.

Financial Aid Programs for Kentucky Students

Affording Higher Education

A book of financial aid programs for
Kentucky students pursuing a higher education

Sixteenth Edition

Acknowledgment

By making the public aware of the availability of financial aid to help students pay the costs of attending a college, KHEAA hopes many more students will be encouraged to pursue a higher education. Officials of state agencies; federal agencies; public universities; private colleges, universities and seminaries; public two-year colleges; trade schools; Kentucky high school guidance counselors; companies; and organizations contributed information for the 2006–2007 edition of Affording Higher Education. We gratefully acknowledge their time, effort and cooperation in helping KHEAA compile this catalog of student financial aid programs.

Using This Book

With college tuition increasing by 10 to 15 percent each year, it's more important than ever for you to find financial aid to help you pay for college. Although Kentucky colleges remain a good deal when compared to most other states, a four-year degree can cost you from $40,000 to nearly $120,000. That's a lot of money.

To help you out, we update Affording Higher Education every year so you and your parents have the most up-to-date information available to help you find sources of money to pay for college. "We" are The Student Loan Peoplesm and the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority, better known as KHEAA. This year's edition of Affording Higher Education has information about nearly 4,000 different sources of financial aid for Kentucky students.

Nearly all of those programs are specifically for Kentuckians and students at Kentucky colleges. The last section in the book does have some national scholarships brought to our attention by guidance counselors from across the state, but Affording Higher Education concentrates on Kentucky sources. You can find national scholarships using any number of online scholarship searches, but that's not always true about scholarships offered at the state, county, and local level.

We've kept the basic format from last year. The first two sections give you information about programs available from the state and federal governments. Then there are sections with sources from public universities, private colleges, public community and technical colleges, and trade schools. Next we list private statewide and regional sources. After that come by-county listings.

If students in several counties can apply for a particular scholarship, we usually have the complete information under the first county alphabetically. Under the other counties you'll simply find the name of the scholarship and a page number telling you where to find the complete information. Since many of the scholarships offered by colleges are for students from specific counties, we'll also list the name under the individual counties and give you the page number to find the full details.

Please remember that some scholarships don't specify counties but regions, such as eastern Kentucky, which don't have well-defined boundaries. You'll need to check the index at the back for your region of the state so you don't miss any scholarship sources.

Some tips about financial aid

We've divided the financial aid sources we list in Affording Higher Education by type whenever possible. The most common types are:

- Grant: An award you generally don't have to pay back. Most grants are based on financial need.
- Loan: Money you or your parents have to borrow and pay back with interest.
- Scholarship: An award you generally don't have to repay. Many are based on talent or achievement, either academic, artistic, or athletic. Others are based on where you live, where you or your parents or even your grandparents went to school, or where you or your parents work.
- Waiver: An arrangement that lets you attend a school without having to pay tuition or other costs if you meet certain requirements.
- Conversion scholarship/loan: A scholarship that requires you to provide certain services, such as teaching or nursing, for a certain length of time. If you don't provide the service, the scholarship converts to a loan that you have to repay with interest.
- Military benefit: Financial aid you can get if you have served in the military or if one of your parents was in the military.
- Work-study: Part-time employment that lets you earn money for college by working on or off campus.
- Savings: Money you or your parents have set aside or invested for your college education.

When you're looking for student aid, start with the largest providers. For Kentucky students, those are the programs administered by KHEAA, The Student Loan People, and the federal government.

Then you can look for sources from your county. If you know what college you're going to, you can look for sources listed under that school. Some universities have so many sources of aid that we've divided them by program: College of Arts and Sciences, Department of Physics, School of Fine Arts, etc.

Whenever possible, we tell you the eligibility criteria, the award amount, the number of awards available, the deadline, and whom to contact. Many programs make their awards on a first-come, first-served basis, so it's important to file your application early.

The index gives you page numbers where you can find programs based on specific criteria, such as GPA, major, high school attended, and more. We don't list counties in the index because all the county-specific programs can be found in the county section.

We couldn't do all this without the help of many people across Kentucky. We thank them for everything they do that helps make this book possible. We want to make Affording Higher Education better every year, so please send us any suggestions you have. We're especially interested in adding more local programs.

Other Publications

In addition to Affording Higher Education, KHEAA publishes many other publications about college planning and student aid. They include:

Getting In, which guides high school seniors through the admissions and financial aid processes. In addition to general information relevant to seniors everywhere, it has Kentucky-specific information about sources of financial aid and Kentucky colleges. We send copies to every public and private high school in the state for counselors to give to their seniors. If you didn't get one, please ask your counselor for a copy. If you're being home schooled, you should be able to find a copy at your local public library. Getting In is also available on www.kheaa.com. We usually have extra copies available, at least early in the year, so you can contact the Publications Section, and we'll send you one.

Getting Started, Getting Set and Getting Ready are for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, respectively. They help students in those classes prepare for their senior year and learn about the college and financial aid. Copies of each are sent to high school counselors to give to students. If you didn't get one, ask your counselor.

Brochures that explain KHEAA's financial aid programs. Copies are available from KHEAA upon request.

KHEAA administers the following programs to help students pay for higher education:

- Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship
- College Access Program Grant
- Kentucky Tuition Grant
- Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship
- Teacher Scholarship
- Osteopathic Medicine Scholarship
- KHEAA Work-Study Program
- Federal Stafford Loan
- Federal PLUS Loan

Some Tips for Finding Money for College

You can do lots of things to increase your chances of getting scholarships to pay for college. You'll have to do some work, but you'll most likely find it's worth it. KHEAA and The Student Loan People offer the following tips for the research and application process.

- Complete your tax forms early. The same information you and your parents use on federal income tax forms is used on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The sooner you have that information, the sooner you can file the FAFSA. But keep copies of the federal tax forms you file. Some schools will ask for copies to check against the information you submit on the FAFSA.
- Submit the FAFSA as soon as you can after January 1 if you plan to go to college in the fall. The FAFSA is used not only to determine what federal student aid programs you're eligible for but also what you're eligible for from many state programs. Some colleges also use the FAFSA to decide if you qualify for school-based (called "institutional aid") programs you. You should submit the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. You'll get your results a week or two faster than you if you file by mail. Because answers are edited automatically, you're less likely to make a mistake and schools will be able to tell you sooner if you qualify for student aid. You need a personal identification number (PIN) to file online. You can apply for a PIN at www.pin.ed.gov. You can file a paper FAFSA if you prefer. Paper FAFSAs are available from financial aid offices and high school counselors.
- Make good grades in high school. By doing so, you earn money for college through the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES), administered by KHEAA. You don't have to apply for a KEES award, either. For more information about KEES, see page 8.
- Visit kheaa.com, studentloanpeople.com, and GoHigherKY.org. KHEAA's website has information about KHEAA financial aid programs and services (including detailed information about the KEES program) and the College Aid Calculator (developed for KHEAA by Think Ahead Inc.). The calculator can help you estimate how much financial aid you might receive and how much you might be expected to pay toward college costs. You may also access the most current information about your KHEAA grant, loan and KEES award by setting up a Zip Access account.

The Student Loan People website provides information about the lowest cost student loans in Kentucky and the Kentucky Advantage loan, a private loan that helps students whose financial aid packages don't cover the complete cost of college.

GoHigherKY.org is a one-stop site sponsored by KHEAA, The Student Loan People, other state agencies, and colleges to provide a complete online college and career guide for Kentucky students, parents, and counselors.

- Talk with a financial aid officer at the school you're interested in attending. This official can tell you about aid programs available through the school. The mailing addresses, telephone numbers, and website addresses are provided for each school listed in this book.
- Search for free information about scholarships and other student aid sources. You should:
 - Read Funding Your Education, a U.S. Department of Education booklet with valuable information about student aid. Copies should be available at public libraries and counselor offices. You can get more details by calling the Federal Student Aid Information Center at (800) 4FED-AID or visiting www.ed.gov.
 - Watch newspapers for scholarships offered by local community service organizations, businesses, clubs, unions, churches, fraternal groups, etc., and contact them for more information.
 - Write to organizations connected with your field of interest, which may have financial aid available. These organizations are listed in directories available in public libraries. You can also probably find many of them online.
 - Check with community organizations and civic groups such as the American Legion, the Chamber of Commerce, 4-H Club, Girl or Boy Scouts, and YMCA. Foundations, religious organizations, fraternities or sororities, and service clubs are other possible sources of aid.

- Visit the National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators online at www.nasfaa.org. This site includes the full text of helpful publications, has links to related sites, and can lead you to information about scholarships, scams, and personal finances.

- Check with your high school or public library about books and magazines that have information about financial aid.

- Learn about low-interest loans. You should first try to find student aid that you don't have to repay - grants, scholarships, tuition waivers, etc. But most financial aid packages prepared by schools will include student loans. The largest and lowest cost student loan program in Kentucky is the Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP), administered by KHEAA and The Student Loan People. FFELP includes Federal PLUS Loans and Federal Stafford Loans. Detailed descriptions of these loan programs are on pages 7-8. Borrowers who choose The Student Loan People as their lender can get the lowest cost student loans in Kentucky through the BestStart program. You can also save thousands of dollars through benefits that come into play when you start repaying your student loans. Detailed descriptions of these programs can be found on pages 10-11. For more information, call (888) 678-4625 or visit studentloanpeople.com. (A few schools in Kentucky do not participate in FFELP. They offer Federal Direct Loans with the same eligibility as FFELP but without these same great benefits. Check with the financial aid office.)

- Apply, apply, apply. By applying for several types of student aid, you increase your chances of receiving enough to pay your school costs.
- Read and follow directions. Filling out an application properly and neatly is important. You may be disqualified for failing to complete all questions, answering them incorrectly or missing the deadlines.
- Consult your guidance counselor. This person is an excellent resource and can tell you about financial aid in general and where to look for help.
- Beware of scams. Before paying a fee for financial aid information, talk with your counselor; a financial aid officer at the school you plan to attend; the Better Business Bureau in your area and the area where the firm is located; and the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, 1024 Capital Center Drive, Frankfort, KY 40601, (888) 432-9257. Information about most sources of aid can be obtained free with a little effort on your part. Some companies may offer money-back guarantees to students who don't receive any scholarship sources or funds; but students who are unsuccessful or not satisfied may find that refunds are difficult, if not impossible, to obtain. To find out how to spot, stop, and report a scam, call the National Fraud Information Center at (800) 876-7060.

Each school included in Affording Higher Education must be participating in a Title IV program and a KHEAA program or be a public institution. KHEAA has not independently verified information concerning the programs offered by institutions, accreditation and licensure, or eligibility of the institutions to participate in federal Title IV programs of student financial aid. KHEAA, therefore, makes no representation, express or implied, about the accuracy of that information but relies on information submitted by each institution. Some Kentucky schools that provide financial aid may not meet KHEAA's guidelines for inclusion in Affording Higher Education or may not have responded to KHEAA's request for information about their school. Students attending one of these institutions should check with the school's financial aid office for information about its financial aid programs.

In addition to the companies and organizations listed in Affording Higher Education, many others provide student financial aid. KHEAA welcomes information about these programs for inclusion in the next edition.

State Government

KHEAA and other state agencies administer dozens of student financial aid programs. You'll find information about them in this section.

KHEAA was established by the Kentucky General Assembly in 1966 to enhance higher education opportunities for Kentucky students and is now the primary source of state aid. Since its creation, the agency has helped hundreds of thousands of students pay for college. If you need more information about a KHEAA program, call toll free (800) 928-8926 or visit kheaa.com.

The Student Loan People, KHEAA's sister agency and the state's only public nonprofit student loan lender, was established by the General Assembly to make, finance, service and collect educational loans. Its mission is to promote Kentucky's higher education opportunities by providing the lowest cost loan programs and related services. The Student Loan People provide the state's lowest cost student loans and transfers millions of dollars to KHEAA each year to help fund student aid programs. For more information about The Student Loan People, call (888) 678-4625 or visit studentloanpeople.com.

Eligibility: Must be an undergraduate enrolled at least half-time at an eligible school; be a Kentucky resident and a U.S. citizen, permanent resident, or eligible noncitizen; be enrolled in an eligible program of study of at least two years' duration; not be in default or owe a refund on any KHEAA or Title IV educational grant or loan; be making satisfactory academic progress; not have previously earned a bachelor's degree; and have remaining semesters of KHEAA grant eligibility. Students in a 2-year program may receive the equivalent of 5 semesters, while those in 4-year programs may receive the equivalent of 9 semesters. Based on financial need.

Award: Up to $1,900

Number: About 43,600

Deadline: Awards are made until funds are depleted, so students should file the FAFSA as early as possible.

Kentucky Tuition Grant

Eligibility: Must be a full-time undergraduate enrolled at an eligible private Kentucky college; be a Kentucky resident and a U.S. citizen; be enrolled in an eligible program of study; not be in default or owe a refund on any educational grant or loan; be making satisfactory academic progress; and not have previously earned a bachelor's degree. Based on financial need.

Award: Up to $2,900

Number: About 11,000

Deadline: Awards are made until funds are depleted, so students should file the FAFSA as early as possible.

Loans

Federal PLUS Loan (Federal Family Education Loan Program [FFELP])

Eligibility: Must be the parent or step-parent of a dependent undergraduate student as determined by the school or be a graduate or professional student; be a citizen, permanent resident, or eligible noncitizen of the United States and verify Social Security number and immigration status; not be in default or owe a refund on any educational grant or loan; and not have an adverse credit history under federal regulations. The student must be a citizen, permanent resident, or eligible noncitizen of the United States; be enrolled or accepted for enrollment at least half-time in an eligible degree or certificate program at an eligible school; be in good standing and making satisfactory academic progress if currently enrolled; not be attending elementary or secondary school; and not be in default or owe a refund on any educational grant or loan unless satisfactory arrangements have been made toward repayment.

Repayment: Repayment begins within 60 days after the loan is fully disbursed. Payments on principal may be deferred under certain circumstances. Interest begins to accrue upon disbursement and must be paid monthly or quarterly or be added to the principal. PLUS Loans have a fixed interest rate of 8.5%.

Award: The annual loan amount may not exceed the student's estimated cost of attendance minus any other financial aid the student receives. There is no limit on the total amount a parent can borrow during a student's college years.

Number: Unlimited

Deadline: The financial aid office at the school the student plans to attend must certify the loan application on behalf of the student at the earliest opportunity before or during the student's enrollment period.

Federal Stafford Loan (FFELP)

Eligibility: Must be an undergraduate, graduate, or professional student; be a citizen, permanent resident, or eligible noncitizen of the United States; be enrolled or accepted for enrollment at least half-time in an eligible degree or certificate program at an eligible school; have a high school diploma or its equivalent; be in good standing and making satisfactory academic progress if currently enrolled; and not be in default or owe a refund on any federal education grant or loan unless arrangements have been made to repay the debt.

Students must demonstrate financial need to qualify for a subsidized loan. The federal government pays the interest while the student is in school, during authorized deferment periods, and for six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time. The borrower begins paying the interest and principal when the loan enters repayment.

Students do not have to demonstrate financial need to qualify for an unsubsidized loan. Unlike a subsidized loan, the borrower must begin paying the interest immediately. Interest on an unsubsidized loan may be paid monthly or quarterly or added to the principal balance.

Financial need is determined for the subsidized loan before eligibility is determined for the unsubsidized loan.

The Stafford Loan amount for an academic period cannot exceed the student's cost of attendance (as determined by the school) minus the student's estimated financial assistance and, if the loan is subsidized, expected family contribution. Schools will determine the student's eligibility.

Repayment: Several repayment plans are available. Six months after the borrower leaves school or drops below half-time status, repayment begins on a subsidized loan. Repayment on an unsubsidized loan begins immediately upon disbursement but may be delayed until 6 months after the borrower leaves school or drops below half-time status; however, interest begins to accrue upon disbursement. The interest rate is fixed at 6.8%.

Award: A borrower may receive a subsidized loan, an unsubsidized loan, or both for an academic period. However, the total amount received may not exceed the loan limits for each academic year based on the borrower's dependency status and grade level and the length of the program of study in which the borrower is enrolled. The current loan limits are:

Grade Level	Dependent Status	Independent Status
First Year	$2,625	$6,625
Second Year	$3,500	$7,500
Each Remaining Year of Undergraduate Study	$5,500	$10,500
Each Year of Graduate/Professional Study	$8,500	$18,500

Number: Unlimited

Deadline: The financial aid office at the school the student plans to attend must certify the loan application on behalf of the student at the earliest opportunity before or during the student's enrollment period.

Federal Consolidation Loan (FFELP)

Eligibility: Must be in grace period or repayment status on all loans being consolidated, have made satisfactory repayment arrangements with the holder of each loan (if a delinquent or defaulted borrower) or agree to repay the consolidating lender under an income-sensitive repayment plan, not be subject to a judgment secured through litigation or wage garnishment unless judgment has been vacated or wage garnishment lifted, not have a Consolidation Loan application pending with another lender, and consolidate with the current lender unless the borrower has multiple lenders and/or his or her lender does not offer a Consolidation Loan with income-sensitive repayment plan. If a borrower and spouse both want to consolidate their loans into one Consolidation Loan, they must agree to be jointly and individually responsible for repayment, without regard to the amount each owes and any change in marital status.

The following loans can be consolidated: Federal Family Education Loans (subsidized and unsubsidized Stafford, formerly Guaranteed Student Loans; PLUS; Supplemental Loans for Students [SLS], formerly Auxiliary Loans to Assist Students [ALAS]); and Consolidation); Federal Insured Student Loans (FISL); Federal Perkins Loans, formerly National Direct/Defense Student Loans; Health Education Assistance Loans (HEAL); Health Professions Student Loans (HPSL), including Loans for Disadvantaged Students (LDS); Federal Nursing Student Loans; and Federal Direct Loans (subsidized and unsubsidized Stafford, PLUS, and Consolidation). New loans may be added if the request is received by the consolidation lender within 180 days of the date the Consolidation Loan is made.

Repayment: The repayment period depends on the amount of the Consolidation Loan. Other student loans are considered when calculating the repayment period. The consolidation lender must offer the choice of a graduated or income-sensitive repayment schedule. If none of the holders of the loans can provide an income-sensitive repayment schedule, the borrower may obtain a Consolidation Loan from another lender. Except for the portion of the Consolidation Loan attributable to HEAL, the interest rate is a fixed rate of 8.25% or the weighted average of the interest rates on the loans being consolidated, rounded to the next higher 1/8 of 1%, whichever is less.

The interest rate on the HEAL part of the loan (if applicable) varies and is set each July 1. The variable rate for each 12-month period is equal to the average of the bond equivalent rate of the 91-day Treasury bills auctioned for the quarter ending June 30, plus 3%. The 8.25% interest rate cap does not apply.

Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES)

Eligibility: To be eligible for a base award, a high school student must be enrolled in a certified Kentucky high school for at least 140 days of the school year; be a U.S. citizen, national, or permanent resident; be a Kentucky resident; achieve a minimum 2.5 GPA at the end of a school year that included the core curriculum authorized by KHEAA, which requires students be enrolled in at least 5 courses each year; and not be a convicted felon. To earn a bonus award, the student must qualify for at least 1 base award and have a composite score of at least 15 on the ACT or 710 on the SAT. A student must graduate from a certified Kentucky high school before GPA awards can be applied at a participating college or university.

To be eligible for a supplemental award only, a high school student attending a noncertified, nonpublic Kentucky high school must not have graduated before May 1999, enroll in a participating school within 5 years of high school graduation, have a composite score of at least 15 on the ACT or 710 on the SAT, not be a convicted felon, and meet citizen and state residency requirements.

In addition to Kentuckians attending in-state high schools, students who maintain Kentucky residency while participating in an approved foreign educational exchange program or the U.S. Congressional Page School or whose parent is in active military service can earn KEES awards.

To be eligible for a supplemental award only, a GED recipient must not have turned 18 before 1999, receive a GED diploma within five years of turning 18, take the ACT or SAT at a national test site, have a composite score of 15 or higher on the ACT or 710 on the SAT, arrange to have the score reported to the school at which the student plans to enroll, enroll in a participating school within 5 years of receiving a GED, not be a convicted felon, and meet citizenship and residency requirements.

KEES awards must generally be used in Kentucky. Students pursuing a degree in a program of study not available in Kentucky may be able to use a KEES award at an out-of-state school approved by the CPE.

Award: Awards range from $125 (2.5 GPA) to $500 (4.0 GPA) each year and from $36 (ACT score of 15) to $500 (ACT score of 28 or above). To receive their full awards, college students must be enrolled full-time. Students enrolled at least half-time but less than full-time will receive a prorated amount. Students must earn a 2.5 cumulative GPA at the end of the first year to keep the full award. After the second and third years, students must have a 3.0 cumulative GPA to keep the full award. Students with a GPA of at least 2.5 but less than 3.0 will receive half the award. Award amounts may change based on funding.

KHEAA Teacher Scholarship

Eligibility: Must be a U.S. citizen and Kentucky resident; be seeking initial teacher certification; and be enrolled or accepted for enrollment as a full-time student, unless enrolled for the final term and less than full-time enrollment is required to complete the teacher certification program. Based on financial need.

Students eligible for renewal receive awards first. After that, awards are made to qualified students who have been unconditionally admitted to a teacher education program by their college. If funds remain, awards are made to qualified students who have not yet been admitted to a teacher education program but who meet the standards and requirements for admission and to eligible students seeking admission to a teacher education program. The student's expected family contribution is taken into account.

Award: Juniors, seniors, postbaccalaureate, and graduate students can get up to $6,250 per year (up to $2,500 for the fall semester, $2,500 for the spring semester, and $1,250 for summer school). If funds remain, freshmen and sophomores can get up to $1,575 per year (up to $625 for the fall semester, $625 for the spring semester, and $325 for summer school).

Number: About 630

Obligation: Recipients must complete a teacher education program in the prescribed time, obtain a Kentucky teaching certificate, and provide qualified teaching service one semester for each semester or summer term they receive a Teacher Scholarship. Those who teach in a critical shortage area will have Teacher Scholarship awards for two semesters or summer terms cancelled for each semester of qualified teaching service. Recipients who do not complete an eligible program of study or provide qualified teaching service must repay the scholarship plus 6% interest from the date of disbursement. Special rules apply to cancelling repayment for scholarships received from more than one program for the same semester.

Recipient Responsibilities: In addition to the obligations above, recipients must immediately notify KHEAA of a change in name and/or address, a change in enrollment status, withdrawal from an eligible program, or a change in teacher employment status. Recipients must also answer requests for information about enrollment or employment status in a timely manner.

Application: FAFSA and Teacher Scholarship application, available on www.kheaa.com.

Deadline: KHEAA must receive the FAFSA need analysis data from the Central Processor by May 1 and the Teacher Scholarship Application must be certified by May 1. This is the student's responsibility.

Kentuckians can deduct a credit of 25 percent of the federal Hope or Lifetime Learning credits up to $500 for tuition or related education expenses for them, their spouse, or other dependents. To take advantage of the state tax credit, the tuition or other expenses must be for undergraduate enrollment at an eligible Kentucky higher education institution that qualifies for participation in federal Title IV student financial aid programs.

For married individuals to claim the tax credit, they must file a joint return or file separately on a combined form.

Because the tax credit is nonrefundable, any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for up to five years.

VA Benefits

Chapter 30 – Montgomery GI Bill (Active Duty)

Eligibility: Must initially enter active duty after June 30, 1985, and serve continuously for 3 years or 2 years followed by 4-year enlistment in Selected Reserve (military pay reduced by $100 each month for 12 months); have entitlement under the Vietnam Era GI Bill on December 31, 1989, with active duty from October 19, 1984, through June 30, 1988, or June 30, 1987, followed by 4-year enlistment in Selected Reserve (no reduction in pay); or be on active duty on September 30, 1990, or on or after November 30, 1993, and be involuntarily separated after February 2, 1991, to elect Chapter 30 benefits (also allows individuals voluntarily separated after October 23, 1992, and those involuntarily separated after December 4, 1991, and before October 23, 1992, to elect Chapter 30 benefits; must have pay reduced by $1,200 prior to separation from active duty). Less than honorable discharge disqualifies an individual for all categories. Individual must complete high school, GED, or 12 credit hours of college subjects before applying for Montgomery GI Bill benefits. Active duty personnel must serve 2 years before using benefit. Discharge for convenience of government, disability, hardship, medical condition that preexisted military service or one interfering with military job performance, or reduction in force prior to completion of qualifying active duty may not be disqualifying. Eligibility generally ends 10 years after separation from active duty or the date eligibility was established.

Benefits: Monthly benefits for training in degree and nondegree programs, apprenticeship/on-job, correspondence, cooperative, and flight training. Thirty-six months of full-time benefits are available; lesser number if qualifying active duty period is not completed.

Chapter 31 – Vocational Rehabilitation for Service-Disabled Veterans

Eligibility: Effective October 1, 1993, must have a disability which VA has rated at least 10% compensable, have an employment handicap according to VA, and be within period of eligibility (generally 12 years following the date of notification of entitlement to VA compensation for disability).

Benefits: Cost of tuition, books, fees, supplies, and equipment. While in training or extended evaluation, veteran may receive a subsistence allowance in addition to disability compensation or military retired pay.

Chapter 32 – Post-Vietnam Era Veterans Educational Assistance Program

Eligibility: Must have initially entered active duty between January 1, 1977, and June 30, 1985, and enrolled in and made contributions from $25 to $100 each month while on active duty up to a maximum of $2,700 with 2-for-1 matching funds from the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD). (Additional contributions called kickers may be made by DoD.) Generally, the participant must have completed 24 continuous months or the full period for which he or she was called or ordered to active duty, whichever is less (does not apply if individual was discharged under early-out discharge, hardship discharge, or service-connected disability). Discharge must be under conditions other than dishonorable. Active duty personnel are eligible if first obligated period of active duty has been completed. Eligibility extends for 10 years after release from active duty. Certain individuals who entered active duty between November 30, 1980, and October 1, 1981, will have their contributions made by DoD.

Benefits: Monthly payments for number of months participants contributed or for 36 months, whichever is less. Amount of monthly benefits depends on amount and number of contributions.

Chapter 35 – Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance Program

Eligibility: Must be the child, spouse, or surviving spouse of a veteran who died or is permanently and totally disabled as the result of a service-connected disability arising out of active service in the Armed Forces or who died from any cause while such disability was in existence or be the child or spouse of a person who is on active duty as a member of the Armed Forces and who is and for at least 90 days has been listed by the DoD as a POW or MIA or otherwise forcibly detained by a foreign government or power. A child generally may use this benefit between the ages of 18 and 26, although exceptions do exist. A spouse has 10 years from the date eligibility is established.

Benefits: Eligible individuals receive up to 45 months of training and full-time monthly benefits of $695 for institutional training. They may pursue the same training approved for Chapter 30 with the exception of flight programs.

Chapter 1606 – Montgomery GI Bill (Selected Reserve)

Private Colleges, Universities, and Seminaries

Private colleges, universities, and theological seminaries are included in this section. Private schools are privately owned and operated and, in addition to tuition and fees charged to students, receive a major portion of their funding from private donations.

All of the private colleges and universities offer a bachelor's degree, while some offer a certificate, associate, master's, and/or doctoral degree program.

Theological seminaries are private graduate schools that offer specialized programs of religious study to prepare students for the ministry. The programs are two to five years long and lead to a master's or doctoral degree.

Two-Year Public Colleges

Programs in these schools last from 6 to 24 months and can lead to diplomas, certificates, and associate degrees. Some programs are designed to transfer for credit at four-year colleges and universities. Others are technical programs that teach students specific occupational skills or improve their present job skills.

The colleges listed in this section are part of the Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS). KCTCS is currently in the process of consolidating schools. Schools are listed according to information provided to KHEAA at the time this book went to print and are subject to change.

Financial aid programs administered by two-year public colleges are listed on the following pages in alphabetical order.

Kentucky Scholarships

Many Kentucky businesses and organizations have set up financial aid programs to help Kentuckians with their college costs. Some are available statewide, while others are limited to several counties, one county, or one school. KHEAA has gathered information on as many of these programs as we can. Only those programs that replied to our requests for information are included. Statewide programs are listed first, then county-specific programs.
